FIREWIRE SLATER DESIGNS S BOSS I-BOLIC VOLCANIC FUTURES FINS

Our most user-friendly, pure performance shape. Ever.

The S Boss combines Kelly Slater's pursuit of high-performance progression with Dan Mann's mission to make performance surfing accessible to all by design.

With a relaxed rocker, forgiving fin cluster, full outline and hidden volume throughout — the S Boss is the most versatile shape in your Slater Designs quiver.

The result? The best turn of your life. The best airs Kevin Schulz can do. The S Boss is a true universal surfboard built to unlock progression across all conditions and skill levels.

Recommended with the KS1 template, ridden as a quad. Dan Mann suggests riding this shape on the higher side of your volume range. Kevin Schulz is 168 lbs and rides either the 5'6" (27.6L) in smaller waves or the 5'7" (28.1L) in bigger waves.

Pair with Slater Designs traction and leash for the best experience.

I-BOLIC TECHNOLOGY

Patent Pending technology build into the core blank construction create preloaded structural flex together with structure strength and durability.

Fiber Reinforced I-Beam down center with Parabolic Rail Springers from nose to tail.

Three independent points for flex control and break resistance

I-Beam ensures firmness underfoot and unparalleled break strength

Two Parabolic Rail Springers enable flex and recoil during turns

I-BOLIC Technology is an engineering feat that builds performance into the core of your surfboard - no external carbon layups or heavy laminations needed.

A leap forward in surfboard manufacturing with an interplay of our favorite elements of LFT and Helium combined, elevated and enhanced to put The Future Under Your Feet.
